Something is Very, Very Different

When Jake woke up on Wednesday morning, he thought it was just another day, as usual. He got dressed, ate breakfast, and prepared to go to school.
When he went outside, however, he realized that something, was very, very different
