

1.1 Introduction to Present Tense

We use the present tense to talk about things that always happen, or habits:

I go to school at 7:00.
Lizards climb on the walls.
The sun rises in the east.

We often use the present tense with the time words always, often, usually, sometimes, and never:

Sometimes we take our dog to the park.
They usually watch TV after dinner.
I never wake up before 6:00am.
They always go camping in June.

*In the present tense, if the subject is He, She, or It, you must add -s/-es to the verb.

Wrong: Daniel eat dinner at 7:00. (x)
Right: Daniel eats dinner at 7:00.

Wrong: My dog sleep on the floor. (x)
Right: My dog sleeps on the floor.

Correct the errors in the sentences below.

1. Julie like to play baseball.

2. My friend lend me a pencil every day.

3. They walks to school every morning.

