

Lesson 4

Food and Beverages

Look at these pictures. Say something about each.

John and Maria are meeting for lunch.

John and Maria are in the University food court. The food court has many different choices for students when they are hungry. There are many different kinds of food stalls in the food court. There are sandwich stalls. There are salad stalls. There are pizza stalls, hamburger stalls, and chicken stalls too. There are also many different kinds of international food stalls. There is Chinese food, Japanese food, Thai food, Indian food, and Mexican food.

There are also many different kinds of beverages for students to choose when they are thirsty. They can choose soda, tea, coffee, milk, mineral water, or juice. They can buy beverages from a food stall or from a vending machine. The vending machines also sell snacks, like potato chips or cookies.

Students can choose many different kinds of food and drink for breakfast, lunch, dinner, or just a snack. They eat breakfast in the morning. They eat lunch at noon. They eat dinner in the evening. They eat a snack anytime. Today, John and Maria will have lunch together. They are talking about the different kinds of food they like and dislike.

Dialogue: Maria and John are talking about food.

John: Hi Maria, how are you doing?

Maria: I'm fine John, how about you?

John: Actually, I'm hungry.

Maria: Well, you came to the right place. There are many things to eat here.

John: I know. But there are so many choices that I don't know what to choose.

Maria: Well, what kind of food do you like?

John: I like pizza and salad, but I don't like hamburgers or sandwiches.

Maria: OK, why don't you have pizza and salad?

John: But I had that yesterday.

Maria: Maybe you can try one of the international foods they have here.

John: What do you suggest?

Maria: Well, I like Chinese and Japanese food, but I don't like Mexican or Indian food.

John: Why don't you like Mexican or Indian food?

Maria: They are too spicy for me.

John: Oh, I see. I like spicy food.

Maria: Then maybe you can choose Mexican or Indian food for lunch today.

John: That's a good idea Maria. I think I'll have some tacos. How about you?

Maria: I think I'll have a slice of pizza and some salad today.

John: That sounds like a good idea. Let's hurry up, I'm starving.

Maria: Me too. Talking about food always makes me hungrier!
